Kratos Defense & Security Solutions | DEI Services

Expertise. Reliability. Stability. On August 10, 2010 DEI Services announced its merger with Kratos' Workforce Learning and Performance Group. This partnership offers a broad portfolio of training, simulation, and gaming products and services to military, federal, and civilian workforces.

One Team: Complementary Solutions

Together, Kratos/DEI provide a comprehensive approach to workforce learning and performance that spans strategic planning, organizational development, competency-based workforce planning, and a broad array of learning & performance solutions. Coupled with lifecycle logistics support and acquisition program support, the Kratos/DEI team brings new skills, capabilities, and qualifications to our clients, achieving a broader range of solutions.

One Team: Broad Technical Expertise

DEI's expertise as a designer and manufacturer of simulators, simulations and gaming products is complemented by Kratos' proficiency in delivering workforce planning, front-end analysis and blended learning programs. Our combined resources allow for collaboration on more ambitious projects, delivering a comprehensive suite of cutting-edge learning solutions to customers, ranging from simulators and simulations to instructor-led courses, social media, gaming, virtual reality, eLearning and other technology-based solutions.

One Team: A Committed, Trusted Partner

The DEI/ Kratos merger represents security and stability in a well-funded, growth-oriented public corporation. Together, we offer customers expanded solutions, additional contract options and a broad collection of alliances and working partner relationships.
